

Addarii, Filippo

PlusValue

Filippo is Founding Partner and CEO. He has 15 years' experience in designing, fundraising for and managing European multi-stakeholder projects for socio-economic development through innovative approaches and civic engagement in the EU and worldwide. His projects have been funded by the European Commission, British Foreign Office, UN Fund for Democracy, private foundations and corporations.

He is currently a member of the European Commission's Strategic Policy Forum on Digital Entrepreneurship. He's also senior advisor on impact investment strategy of Fondazione San Patrignano (Italy) one leading on the development of a new generation of social impact finance instruments working with Deutsche Bank, BNP, Banca Sella and Banca Esperia.

Filippo holds a Master of Research in Urban Studies and Affairs from UCL and a MA in Non-Profit Management from Università degli Studi di Urbino. He has successfully completed executive courses at Harvard Kennedy School (Civil Society Leadership Management), at INSEAD (Social Enterprise) and at CASS Business School (Centre for Charity Effectiveness, London, UK).

(last updated 28.09.2018)