

Araujo, Rita

European Commission Directorate-General for Research and Innovation

Rita Araujo is Team Leader of the Environment, Climate and Health team in the Directorate-General for Research and Innovation (DG RTD) of the European Commission in Brussels. In her role, she oversees and contributes to the design and implementation of the Horizon Europe Work Programmes for health research, specifically focusing on environment, climate and health research topics. She also works with project clusters, helping them translate their knowledge and data into policy and practice and fostering connections between their research outcomes and the larger EU policymaking ecosystem. Prior to her time in DG RTD, Rita spent several years working as a Scientific Officer in the Commission's Joint Research Centre in Ispra, Italy. She comes from an academic background in biology.
