

Nelander, Charan

Danish Committee for Health Education

Charan Nelander is Director of the Danish Committee for Health Education - co-founder of the Wellbeing Alliance Hub, Denmark. Dedicated manager, developer, communicator, and implementer for 20 years of both municipal, regional, national and international health projects and initiatives. Extensive experience in the "field of tension" between the public, the political and the private / non-profit, using my experience to get organizations and people to work together and perform their best.