

Doyle, Yvonne

Public Health England and Advisor to London Mayor Sadiq Khan

Yvonne Doyle, CB, MD, MPH, FRCPI, FFPHM. Yvonne offers 22 years of experience from senior roles in the NHS and Department of Health, the academic and independent sectors. This includes international representation of the UK at healthcare policy level and presenting her own research and published material internationally, innovation in public health and health care at national and regional level, building and leading public health systems. Her recent international work has been with global cities on behalf of the Mayor of London to bring forward London's ambition to become the healthiest global city, presenting her work in Europe and North America. Previously she has presented her research on successful ageing at the EU Czech Presidency and the World Economic Forum in its World Scenario Series (The Future of Pensions and Healthcare in a Rapidly Ageing World – scenarios to 2030) and has acted as an adviser to the WHO on Healthy Cities. She holds visiting professorships from three Universities and has recently been appointed a Companion of the Order of the Bath for services to Public Health.

(last updated 28.09.2018)