

Fisher, Jack

Jack Fisher is a communications consultant working within NCDs and Global Health. He has a MSc in Global Health from the Copenhagen School of Global Health and is working within the WHO Global Coordination Mechanism on NCDs. He has a variety of experiences working within academia, multilateral organisations and civil society covering topics such as climate change and health, environmental health and humanitarian action.

(last updated 02.10.2018)