

Frischhut, Markus

MCI | The Entrepreneurial School®

Markus Frischhut is a Professor teaching and researching at MCI | The Entrepreneurial School® and Adjunct Professor at Alma Mater Studiorum - Università di Bologna. In his work, he focusses on EU law, EU health law, EU values, as well as the relationship of EU law and ethics (e.g. in the field of AI and digitalization). He is part of Work Package 5 of the Horizon Europe funded project Flash and supporting the European Health Union (EHU) initiative as a EHU Champion. He is co-editor of the European Journal of Health Law and has been speaker for EU institutions, etc. (European Parliament, European Central Bank, European Investment Bank, European Group on Ethics in Science and New Technologies). He has had two Jean Monnet Chairs, the first on EU law and ethics (2016-2019) and a second one on EU values (2019-2022). All his publications and other activities are documented and (as far as possible) available on the following website: <https://jeanmonnet.mci.edu/>