Gliber, Martina
Institut Merieux, France

I joined Institut Mérieux in October 2014 where I am leading the external relations for medical and scientific affairs. I assure for our bio-industrial group (> 17.000 employees worldwide) the visibility at EU level, engage with public and private stakeholders, advocate and set-up major R&I partnerships around our priorities (infectious diseases, access to diagnostics, AMR, food safety, global health..). Holding a Master Degree in Public Health, I have successfully set up during the last 20 years many public and private partnerships and collaborations and know well both the diagnostic industry and the foundation sectors. My objective is to contribute, in partnership, to more equity in health.
