Gokani, Nikhil
University of Essex

Nikhil is Assistant Professor of Public Health Law. His research brings together public health and consumer protection, trade and human rights law. His expertise is in the regulation of food and alcohol information, particularly front-of-pack nutrition labelling and alcohol labelling. Nikhil regularly works with governments and civil society (eg WHO, UNICEF, UK Public Health Network) and has received funding from prestigious organisations (eg MRC and Wellcome Trust). Before Essex, Nikhil worked at the University of Liverpool, where he was Deputy Director of the Law & Non-Communicable Diseases Unit, and now sits on its Advisory Board. He is Chair of the Alcohol Labelling and Health Warning International Expert Group at Eurocare; member of the WHO Technical Advisory Group on Alcohol Labelling; Vice President of the Law and Public Health Section of EUPHA; Fellow of the Royal Society for Public Health; and member of the Secretary of State for Transport's Honorary Medical Advisory Panel. Nikhil has also been a member of other national committees including at Royal College of Physicians, National Institute for Health and Care Excellence, and National Institute for Health Research. At Essex, Nikhil is Convener of the Health and Medical Humanities Hub. He lectures on Commercial Determinants of Health in the School of Health and Social Care. In 2023/24, he will launch a postgraduate module on 'Law and the Commercial Determinants of Health'.
