

Jelamschi, Nicolae

National Agency for Public Health, Republic of Moldova

Dr Jelamschi started in 1994 as a specialist in Dermatology and STD and as a lecturer in Dermatology and STD of the State University of Medicine. From 2007 he focused his activities in Public Health, obtained his MPH (2008) and PhD in Social Medicine and Health Management (2013). His professional activity was focused in special on Health Workforce policies, management and education. One of the promoters to establish the South-Easter Europe Health Network (SEEHN) HWF Observatory in Republic of Moldova, Chair of the Executive Committee of the SEEHN (2015-2016) and Advisor (2017-2020). State Secretary at the MoH (2014-2016). Executive Director of the Global Fund Principal Recipient in Moldova (2016-2021). From 2021 to present – Director of the National Agency for Public Health. He has participated as an expert in several missions, organised by EURO WHO, WB, as well EU Joint Action projects. His area of expertise are HRH data, policies and strategies, HWF Mobility and Education.