Chortis, Konstantinos
Panhellenic Heart Disease Association

Konstantinos Chortis is Chair of the Board of the Panhellenic Heart Disease Association and a long-standing advocate for people living with cardiovascular disease in Greece. Born with a congenital heart defect and dependent on a pacemaker since 1995, he combines decades of lived experience with more than ten years of patient advocacy. He also serves on the Board of Greece's National Confederation of Persons with Disabilities and Chronic Diseases and has been a member of the European Society of Cardiology Patients' Forum since 2025.
