

Lichtenecker, Ruperta

Competence Center for Climate and Health, Gesundheit Österreich (Austrian National Public Health Institute)

Dr Ruperta Lichtenecker PhD has been Head of Department of the Competence Center Climate and Health at Gesundheit Österreich GmbH since March 2022.

Ruperta Lichtenecker has more than 30 years of activity and experience as an economist, researcher, manager and supervisor in the fields of science, administration, economics and politics with a focus on: environmental economics and policy, climate change mitigation, research, innovation, public health, health economics, health promotion, technology assessment, foresight, digitalization, energy economics and policy, economics, COVID-19 management and crisis management. She is lecturer at the Johannes Kepler University Linz and at the Federal Academy of Administration. She holds a master's degree and PhD in macroeconomics from the Johannes Kepler University Linz.