Goerlitz, Lisa
Deutsche Stiftung Weltbevölkerung

Lisa heads the Brussels Office at the global health NGO DSW. Lisa is an impact-driven advocacy strategist with 15 years' experience in non-profit, human rights and development organisations, driving policy change to advance health equity and sexual and reproductive rights, including through research and innovation. Under Lisa's leadership, the DSW Brussels Office plays a crucial role in ensuring that EU policies and investments contribute to tackling neglected global health challenges and the gender health gap, working closely with EU institutions and policymakers. Prior to DSW, Lisa worked with Amnesty International and different political foundations, with a background in public policy and international law.
