Lochner, Florian
Health Agency of Lower Austria

Florian Lochner is a Project Manager for European and international health and care projects in Lower Austria. He joined the Lower Austrian Health Agency (NÖ Landesgesundheitsagentur) in 2019 and has been working in the Department of European Affairs & Healthacross ever since. After completing his master’s degree at the University of Applied Sciences Krems in 2022, he continued to focus on the implementation of European-funded projects aimed at strengthening cooperation in health and care between Lower Austria and its neighbouring countries Czechia, Slovakia and Hungary. These projects are dedicated to improving healthcare services for citizens living in border regions and to unlocking synergies through cross-border collaboration. In addition, Healthacross also coordinates and implements larger European projects with partners from across Europe, addressing a broad range of topics such as digital health solutions, digital pathology, and sustainability in healthcare.
Another important aspect of Florian's work is active participation in European and international health networks, including EUREGHA and the WHO Regions for Health Network (RHN). Through these activities, he contributes to strengthening the visibility of health policy at the European level and promotes cooperation as a key driver for improving health systems across borders.
