EUROPEAN HEALTH FORUM
GASTEIN

Gatzolis, Loukianos
European Commission Directorate-General for Health and Food Safety

Policy Analyst in the Unit ‘State of Health’ of the Directorate-General for Health and Food Safety (DG SANTE), European Commission.

Loukianos Gatzoulis holds a PhD in Medical Physics and Medical Engineering from the University of Edinburgh, a Master’s degree in Bioengineering from the University of Strathclyde and a degree in Electrical Engineering from the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. He has been working at the European Commission since 2005 and has been involved in several topics such as eHealth; active and healthy ageing; health systems performance assessment; reforms, innovations and investments in health systems; new care models and integrated care.