

Moren, Alain

EpiConcept

Dr Alain Moren is a medical epidemiologist, PhD in epidemiology, former US-CDC EIS officer, director of MSF medical department, director of Epicentre, and coordinator of EPIET. He has an extensive expertise in conducting data analysis, vaccine effectiveness studies and training field epidemiologists. As coordinator of the EPIET programme for 11 years he has supervised many EPIET fellows involved in the various EU disease specific surveillance networks and contributed to the development of the EPIET training material and curriculum. He has contributed to many surveillance activities, outbreak investigations, applied research studies and communication at European and international level. Alain supervises all the activities of the various EpiConcept studies on vaccine impact and effectiveness.