

Petrova-Benedict, Roumyana

Roumyana Petrova-Benedict, IOM Senior Regional Migration Health Advisor, Europe, Regional Office Brussels, is responsible for the development, implementation and coordination of IOM Migration Health programs, projects, liaison and partnerships. She has over 20 years' experience in global public health, health inequities, development and research from within academic, civil society and intergovernmental institutions in several continents. Specific recent work includes developing and directing three direct agreements with the EC "Fostering health provision to migrants, the Roma and other vulnerable groups in the EU/EEAequi-health.eea.iom.int"; "Support Member States under particular migratory pressure in their response to health related challenges"<http://re-health.eea.iom.int/>, and; "RE-Health² "Implementation of the Personal Health Record as a tool for integration of refugees in EU health systems"". She has contributed to numerous publications related to migrant and refugee health, and is co-editor to the volume Migration and Health in the European Union

(last updated 26.09.2017)