EUROPEAN HEALTH FORUM
GASTEIN

Pinto, Cátia
Shared Services of Ministry of Health, Portugal

Cátia Sousa Pinto is a medical doctor and public health specialist who graduated from University of Lisbon and National School of Public Health, Portugal. She did post-graduation training in Statistics, Epidemiology and Public Health Surveillance and Information Systems at Harvard University, Universitá Cattolica di Sacro Cuore and University of Edinburgh. Cátia worked as the Head of Epidemiology and Surveillance Division, Directorate-General of Health in Portugal from 2012 to 2018. She coordinated the digital transformation of national core public health surveillance systems: the Portuguese Mortality Information System (SICO) and the National National Notifiable Diseases Surveillance System (SINAVE) implementation, including clinical and laboratorial data collection on infectious diseases for public health surveillance. Cátia was also the national representative for ECDC and WHO in infectious diseases, mortality information and International Statistical Classification of Diseases and Related Health Problems (ICD) revision, including national mortality cause of death coding. Between 2018 and 2021 Cátia worked at the Advanced Analytics and Intelligence Unit of SPMS,EPE (Shared Services in the Ministry of Health) in the development of a National Strategy for the Health Information Ecosystem, on the Secondary use of data planning and strategic development, and applied research projects using real world data and artificial intelligence development in the Portuguese National Health Service. Currently, Cátia is the Head of Unit for Global Digital Health and International Affairs at SPMS, EPE in the Ministry of Health of Portugal, coordinating the Portuguese participation in 17 EU funded projects in digital health and is also the national coordinator of Myhealth@eu services. Cátia was the national nominated expert for the EU Council Public Health Working Party discussions on the Proposal for a European Health Data Space Regulation. She represents SPMS as Vice-Chair for the Global Digital Health Partnership 2024-2025 mandate. Cátia is also the national representative for the European Commission eHealthNetwork and WHO networks for Digital Health.