

Roller-Wirnsberger, Regina

Medical University of Graz

Involved into academic research programs in the field of geriatric medicine and public health for older citizens since 2005, coapplicant of several EU-funded projects (Horizon Europe & Erasmus+), stakeholder in several national and international projects, stakeholder in guidelines, care pathways and quality standards development.

As leader of the research unit "aging and old age medicine" at Medical University of Graz the strong focus and main domain of research is on interdisciplinary complex care management, including all aspects of secondary and tertiary prevention for aging well, also crosslinking projects in an integrated care approach.