EUROPEAN HEALTH FORUM
GASTEIN

Sane, Jussi
Finnish Institute for Health and Welfare

Dr Jussi Sane is a Senior Advisor, and Research &Development programme manager at the Finnish Institute for Health and Welfare. He is trained in epidemiology and public/global health and has 15+ years of professional experience in infectious disease epidemiology, health emergency preparedness and response, and health system /societal resilience at national and international levels, including managerial and leading expert roles. His core expertise spans epidemiology and surveillance, capacity assessments, R&D management, programme evaluations, and national action plans for health security. Jussi holds the title of adjunct professor at Tampere University, Finland, and is a co-founding partner a global health consulting company (part-time).