

Saville, Sue

Sue Saville Media

Sue Saville is a highly-experienced broadcast news journalist & conference host; she was the Medical Correspondent at ITV News for 12 years, after being Chief Correspondent at GMTV, & now chairs conferences, awards nights, medical symposia & webinars, as well as running bespoke Media Training and Crisis Communications courses, freelancing as a Reporter for ITV News and making corporate films. Sue started her career as a BBC News Trainee, with roles in regional and national TV newsrooms, including BBC Breakfast News. She worked in radio and television in Hong Kong after graduating with an MA from Oxford University and a Postgraduate Diploma from Cardiff University. Sue speaks French and German.