

Schlagl, Susanne

Vodafone

Susanne Schlagl is responsible for leading 'The Vodafone Centre for Health with Deloitte', bringing together connected health solutions and digital transformation to improve access to healthcare and create better patient experiences.

With 16 years' experience in healthcare technology, prior to joining Vodafone she grew her career within GE Healthcare.

Has international experience with extensive knowledge of the Global and European healthcare markets including the UK, Germany, Italy, and Spain

Susanne holds a degree in Documentation and Computer Science in Medicine, University of Applied Sciences Ulm.

Susanne is a regular guest lecturer at the University for Applied sciences in Neu-Ulm for Digital Transformation in Healthcare, Artificial Intelligence, cloud systems, medical application systems. Member of the University Council, University of Applied Sciences Neu-Ulm: Represent the industry within the university, influence and shape the strategic direction of future education.