

Thalheim, Christoph

European Multiple Sclerosis Platform

Christoph is the Director of External Affairs and Deputy CEO of the European Multiple Sclerosis Platform, a position he has held since early 2012. Christoph spent the first part of his professional life in the German Air Force, where he earned his university degree in pedagogic and left with the rank of a captain. Later on, after almost 15 years in the field of intercultural learning and as part-time motor journalist, he joined EMSP in 2000 as an EU Affairs consultant, becoming soon after its Secretary General. In parallel, he also worked as a consultant in Public Affairs with RIMS, the European network for MS healthcare professionals with a specific focus on research and practice of rehabilitation. Christoph is married, has two children and splits his working time now between offices in Belgium and in the Philippines.