EUROPEAN HEALTH FORUM
GASTEIN

Villa, Ilaria
Telethon Foundation

Ilaria Villa is a leader in the field of biomedical research, currently serving as the CEO of Fondazione Telethon, a prominent organization dedicated to funding research for rare genetic diseases and to transforming discoveries into accessible therapies for patients in need. Before her role at Fondazione Telethon, Ilaria gained industry experience at Zambon, UCB and Roche in the development and commercialization of innovative treatments for severe diseases with greater focus in epilepsy, neuroinflammation and immunology. Ilaria is passionate for fostering collaborations between researchers, healthcare professionals, and industry partners, ensuring that groundbreaking research translates into tangible benefits for patients. Ilaria holds a degree in Economics from the University of Siena