

Zenner, Dominik

International Organization for Migration (IOM)

Dr Dominik Zenner is Senior Migration Health Advisor for the Regional Office for the EEA, the EU and NATO of the International Organization for Migration. Previously he worked as consultant Epidemiologist and head of TB screening in the national TB section in Public Health England, UK.

He helped develop and implementing the TB strategy for England including leading the roll out of the national LTBI screening programme in England and led on health aspects of the UK refugee programme and the UK pre-entry TB screening programme. He has a keen and demonstrated academic and strategic interest in infectious disease epidemiology and migration health, including several high impact publications and won several prizes for TB-related studies, including the Young Investigator award from the European Respiratory Society and his work has informed national and international policy, including WHO guidelines.

(last updated 28.09.2018)